EMPLOYMENT

Two exciting positions available

Carers and Disability Link is a regional provider supporting people with disability, older community members, and family Carers across the peri-urban fringe of the Adelaide Hills and Barossa and into the rural and remote regions of Yorke Peninsula and the Lower North. We are an equal opportunity employer and are committed to diversity and equality in the workplace.

Quality Manager

An exciting opportunity

We have an exciting opportunity for an experienced Quality Management Professional who will support our Quality, Risk Management, Compliance and Human Resource (HR) business practices. You will provide expertise, and have active involvement in design, delivery and evaluation of the quality, risk, and compliance systems, as well as providing related procedural HR and Work Health and Safety (WHS) advice and support.

What do you need to bring?

- Highly developed interpersonal skills and proven ability to build and foster productive relationships and establish trust with staff across the organisation.
- Excellent communication skills to coach, teach, inform, and advise staff using different formats and channels.
- A high level of self-motivation and self-awareness, with a person-centred focus
- Personal and professional integrity and personal fit with organisational values
- Analytical skills, innovation, and ability to develop and enhance internal quality and workforce systems
- Exceptional time management and organisation skills, with the ability to balance conflicting demands from a large and varied workload and meet tight deadlines
- Experience in providing strategic and operational advice to leaders on a range of quality, compliance, and risk management matters.
- Sound knowledge of relevant legislation and standards affecting the provision of quality services and workforce management
- A commitment to continuous quality improvement and workforce development
- Minimum 5 years' experience in quality improvement, risk management and compliance programs and activities, with generalist HR and WHS experience and knowledge
- Relevant tertiary qualification in Compliance, Quality Management, Human Resource Management, or other relevant disciplines is preferred

What do we offer?

- A full-time position with the opportunity to work close to home from one of four regional offices – Clare, Kadina, Nuriootpa (Head Office), or Woodside.
- An excellent opportunity for someone looking to be a part of a growing and dynamic organisation looking to make a real change to the level and quality of services available to the people of rural South Australia.
- Friendly, caring, and collaborative working environment driven by strong values
- Access to salary packaging options – increase your take home pay by decreasing the amount of tax you pay
- Ongoing professional development

Disability Services Coordinator

The Opportunity

We are seeking a highly motivated, passionate, self driven individual to join our experienced Disability Services Team, based in Nuriootpa, Barossa Valley. It is essential that you possess excellent written skills, coupled with highly effective communication skills, administration and computer skills. We offer this exciting opportunity as a permanent part-time position, up to 30 hours per week (with relief hours when required). Hours may be negotiated for the ideal applicant.

Applicants possessing the following elements coupled with the intrinsic requirements of the Position Description will be highly regarded.

- NDIS participant engagement through service agreements and care plans
- An ability to work collaboratively with other disability service providers under NDIS plans.
- Coordination of Supports for NDIS participants.
- Leadership, team work, planning and relationship building abilities
- A demonstrated understanding of the potential needs, barriers and opportunities of persons living with disability and their primary carer/s
- A demonstrated ability to meet personal goals, client driven outcomes and the organisations targets
- The ability to provide professional services with dignity and respect
- Empathy and drive in order to meet the needs of the target group
- Effective time management
- Evidence of qualifications in disability, aged care or community services or equivalent
- Certificate in Community Services Coordination is desirable but not essential

The successful applicant must possess a current DCSI Child Related Employment Screening or a Department of Human Services Disability Clearance, NDIS Worker Check, and a Child Safe Environments certificate, or be prepared to obtain these.

The terms and conditions of this role are set against the SCHC&DS Industry Award, and the successful applicant will be employed at Level 3 or 4 depending on qualifications, with access to salary packaging options to increase your take home pay.

BAROSSA

BOTTLING SERVICES

BOTTLING OPERATORS

San Miguel Yamamura Australasia (SMYA) is an established leader in packaging and contract wine filling in Australia and New Zealand. We started as Cospak Pty Ltd over 50 years ago, and today the company is a joint venture between two packaging leaders, San Miguel Corporation of the Philippines and Nihon Yamamura Glass of Japan. SMYA is headquartered in Sydney and is present in all the major states across Australia and Auckland, New Zealand.

Part of the SMYA Group, Barossa Bottling is a contract wine bottling and packaging facility.

We are currently looking for two Bottling Operators to join our high performing team.

Position Description:

- In this position you will be trained to set up, run and maintain wine bottling and packaging equipment
- Understand, monitor and uphold wine and packaging quality during production
- Recognise and rectify quality breaches through technical testing. You will also be required to oversee and supervise support staff and work within a team environment
- Be trained in wine cellar operations, wine filtration and forklift operation

This role suits individuals who enjoy working in teams and take pride in the quality of their work. Having an eye for detail, enthusiasm for problem solving and some mechanical aptitude will also be beneficial in securing this role.

If this sounds like a role that interests you, please contact Storme on storme.handley@smya.com.au with your Resume.

Some never fail

One hundred and forty years ago, a poor and unknown artist walked 80 kilometres to meet Jules Breton, a well known and highly paid artist.

He had been writing to him for a time, and decided to visit.

He arrived at a prestigious estate.

The poor man was quite exhausted.

As he viewed the high walls surrounding the artist's mansion, he trembled to enter.

He could not overcome the intimidation he felt.

After many minutes of staring, he turned around and made the long journey back to his humble lodgings.

Breton was totally unaware of the event.

Today, no one has ever heard of Jules Breton, but last year, just one painting by the poor unknown artist was auctioned for $111 million.

His name was Vincent Van Gogh.

Is it not often ironic that what is regarded with low esteem in one age, is highly valued in another?

As an artist, Van Gogh may have been judged a failure in his own life time, but that is not the overall view of his worth.

The same is true of everyone who believes in Jesus.

Jesus said, "The first shall be last, and the last shall be first."

In the eyes of the world Christians are often judged as fools and out of date.

As someone stated recently, "Anyone who believes the Bible is the Word of God has left his brains in the barnyard".

But that is not the end of the story.

In the eyes of Heaven they will be welcomed as heroes.

Jesus said, "Blessed are you when they revile and persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely for My sake.

"Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you."

LEADING grain handler Viterra has 1500 seasonal positions available across South Australia and western Victoria as it prepares for a promising 2021-22 harvest.

With roles appealing to a wide range of jobseekers, there is flexibility to be based at 55 storage and handling locations, with on-the-job training and no previous experience required.

Viterra human resources manager Alyson Gilbey said the harvest presented an excellent opportunity for people of all ages and from all walks of life to earn good money and learn new skills.

"Harvest enables people to upskill or gain new work experience, make friends and earn money in a short space of time, with good hourly rates," she said.

"There is also potential to develop a career and stay in an ongoing role.

"Anyone can apply, with no need for prior experience.

"We give on-the-job training and development to ensure employees have the skills and support they need to take on a wide range of roles."

Ms Gilbey said Viterra offered a supportive team environment with the potential to travel with the harvest to work at different sites.

Positions are available from tis month until January 2022 and include grain handling, bunker and weighbridge operations as well as laboratory grain analysts, with career progression possible across the company.

"We receive very positive feedback on the fast pace of harvest, with workers gaining experience in different areas, taking on new responsibilities and having the opportunity to meet new people from a range of places," Ms Gilbey said.

Applications are open now at viterra.com.au.

Employment transition support for students

DISABILITY provider Barkuma is hoping to combat unemployment issues among school students with disability through their Transition Program, which supports final-year school students to transition into the workforce and other future career pathways.

An Australian Institute of Health and Welfare (AIHW) report found that people with disability who are of working age (15 to 64) are twice as likely to be unemployed and are more likely to be unemployed for longer than those without a disability.

The report, People with Disability in Australia 2020, also found that people with disability experience had greater difficulty in finding work due to different barriers they faced, such as a lack of necessary skills or education or insufficient work experience.

Barkuma employment outcomes executive Cherie Jolly said there were significant and meaningful inroads that could be made through their program that helped people with disability to find jobs.

"There are numerous practical ways to help people with disability to overcome systemic barriers to employment," Ms Jolly said.

"These include providing programs that focus on career development activities and practical employment skills building, such as mock interviews, resume writing and career counselling.

"The skills developed by students can then be complemented by accredited training through the likes of TAFESA and private registered training organisations (RTOs), covering fields such as horticulture, retail, construction, hospitality, hair and beauty, and IT."

Disabled People's Organisations Australia (DPOA), peak body for people with disability, said a greater proportion of people with disability did not enter the workforce at all in the first seven years after they finished schooling.

It found the biggest problem for people with disability getting work was a "lack of practical assistance for employers to support employment of people with disability; negative employer and community attitudes; and poor transition to work initiatives for school leavers".

The Barkuma Transition Program works with final-year students with disability over a 12-month period to help them through structured learning, skill development, accredited training, and provide work placement opportunities.

The program provides real-world experience to students with disability so they can be prepared for the workplace.

Ms Jolly said additional crucial changes were necessary by employers and the community in their attitudes, in government funding, and greater legal protection was needed for people with disability to improve employment outcomes.

celebrated for their efforts and skill-building over their final year of their schooling.

"The culmination of the Transition Program is our students undertake one week of work experience, which is enhanced by the support of a key worker, and then we celebrate their achievements and award certificates at the formal graduation ceremony," Ms Jolly said.

Students can also be assured they will receive ongoing support after school to find and keep a job. Participants of the Transition

Program can move into one of Barkuma's other employment pathways, such as the School Leaver Employment Supports (SLES) and Disability Employment Services (DES), which provide further assistance after they leave school to get employment.

Barkuma also has an Australian Disability Enterprise (ADE) program for people with disability to further develop their skills.

To learn more about how the Transition Program can help you, visit the Barkuma website or call 8414 7100.

Transition Program Enrolments Closing soon!

Australian Disability Enterprises have been around a long time, but despite evolving into modern commercial businesses, many of the misconceptions and myths still remain. We bust a few myths about what it's really like working as a supported employee at Barkuma.

Myth: Supported Employees have low skill sets

Fact: Many employees are highly skilled, and have spent years honing their skills.

Myth: Supported Employees are slow and take a long time to learn new tasks.

Fact: Most staff are dedicated, love attending work and work exceptionally well as a team. Many employees work autonomously, and assist with training of new employees.

Myth: Supported Employees don't get opportunities to learn new skills

Fact: Barkuma prioritises regular training and skill development, and employees are supported to move into open employment if they choose.
